III. ORGANISATION OF THE POSTGRADUATE PROGRAMMES
3. GRADING SYSTEM
Examinations are held at the end of each course sub-unit, Examinations are usually in the form of a written exam, but other forms are accepted (oral, assignment, etc).	Examinations are held when all courses of one unit are completed.	Examinations are held at the end of each course unit.
If a student is found to “copy” in any way, this behavior will be penalized by deducting 15 points from the mark given by the professor

The final average of all examinations marks (formal instruction) is a pondered average obtained as the sum of all the marks multiplied by the corresponding credits, divided by the sum of credits. The overall grade is calculated taking into account that: the average mark obtained to exams (formal instruction) accounts for 60% of the total; the mark obtained at the project accounts for 15% of the total; the mark obtained at the final oral exam accounts for 25% of the total		Master : Grading is based on the French system from academic year 2015/2016 onwards (in accordance with IAMM recent accreditation to deliver national diplomas of Master): 20-point grading system, meaning that marks are given on a scale ranging from 0 to 20. Distinctions: Between 14 and 16/20 : Cum Laude Equal or above 17/20: Cum Maxima Laude.

Final comprehensive oral examination		In addition to the written examinations that follow every course unit, every student must undertake training (or a fieldwork) to write a personal research report (“mémoire”) and present it to an academic committee for a comprehensive oral examination.
In addition to the written examinations, a comprehensive oral examination conducted by an Examination Board will be held at the end of the academic year. The relative weight to the total grade is 25%. There is no retake of the oral examination.
		Scientific English examination
		Students must attend a 20 hour course in Scientific English upon the completion of which they are given a grade out of 20. This course corresponds to 2 ECTS.
Examination for incomplete courses
The opportunity to take the exam is given to students having a justified absence only twice during the academic year.		The opportunity to take the exam is given to students having a justified absence, and only twice during the academic year.

Retaking exam policy
Students who have obtained a D grade (numerical score 40-49) have the option of retaking the exam up to 8 ECTS credits. If the retake is passed, the final mark of the exam is 50.	Introduction of a procedure for changing an awarded Grade: Once grades have been submitted to the Studies Coordinator and have been announced on the intranet, no changes are awarded, unless an instructor can provide a written explanation that a legitimate error has been made in the calculation of a student's grade. Introduction of a procedure for Appeal against an awarded Grade: In the case where a student believes that the grade received is different from what was expected, the student may appeal against the grade by filing a petition with the Administration Office. For a petition to be reviewed, a student must appeal within 15 days from the date the results are announced on the intranet. The Administration Office will inform the Studies Coordinator of the petition and will exhaust all possibilities to resolve it individually with the student	Students whose grades are below 10/20 can retake exams in not more than two units. The final grade is the one obtained in the retake examination.	Participants that have failed an exam or that have obtained less than 70/100 (minimum result required for admission to the second year) can retake it. The highest numerical score that a participant can obtain for a retake is 70/100. The grade obtained in the retake is definitive, even if it is lower than the result obtained in the first sit.

	and the instructor in question, and will reach a decision. Changes of grades resulting from an appeal require the endorsement of the Director. Examination for incomplete courses If the student did not attend classes or was unable to take an exam he has to justify his absence and apply to the MAI Director for permission to be examined. Retaking exam policy <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>a. to be graded for incomplete courses.</li><li>b. to improve a D grade (numerical score 49-0). The final grade will be the highest grade attained between the first examination and the retake.</li><li>c. to improve a grade which is greater than 50. The final grade will be calculated from the retake examination which will be weighted 50%, and the first grade which will also be weighted 50%.</li></ul> There is no retake examination period for the last unit. The Institute is the final judge of what constitutes an incomplete course.

IV.1. CONDITIONS FOR ISSUING THE MASTER OF SCIENCE DEGREE (120 ECTS)
To obtain the Master of Science degree Students have to present the progress of their research work before a Supervising Team twice during the academic year. The two steps are: 1st Seminar: bibliographic search; project proposal (objectives, materials and methods) and related written draft; 2nd Seminar: presentation and scientific value of the research work (laboratory or field activity) and related written draft. The overall mark at the end of the programme is calculated taking into account the whole work carried out by the student during the year, according to appendix 1	The threshold for admission to the MSc program would be determined by calculating the final average grade of all participants-in the respective program. The candidates who have achieved a grade equal or above the final average of the respective program would be admitted to the Master of Science program (120 ECTS). For programmes co-organized with Higher Education Institutions, passing marks to the second part of the Master of Science programme will take into account the academic regulations of the partner institutions.	To obtain the Master Diploma, students must have totalized 60 credits with a grade of 10/20 in each unit AND 10/20 in the presentation of their research report.
